The Cleveland Monsters are honored to announce Wednesday that the team will host Hockey Fights Cancer™ Night benefitting Prayers From Maria at Rocket Mortgage FieldHouse this Friday at 7:00 p.m. when they face the Chicago Wolves. The game aims to help raise awareness of Prayers From Maria, a local non-profit dedicated to funding global research into the causes, prevention, treatments and cure of childhood brain tumors. One of the game’s highlights will be a Prayers From Maria-inspired sunflower hockey jersey that	Tony Brown	11/22/2019 7:10 a.m.	7 min.

the Monsters will wear and auction off after the game. The specialty jerseys are a nod to the sunflower fields that are planted annually by the foundation, inspired by the memory and spirit of the founders Ed and Megan McNamara's daughter Maria, as a way to love and honor the courageous children who are battling cancer and those we have lost.

Fans interested in bidding on the Monsters' specialty jerseys can do so by downloading the Monsters Mobile App Presented by University Hospitals and using the 'Monsters Auction' tab, or by staying for a live auction of limited jerseys at the conclusion of Friday's game with proceeds benefitting Prayers From Maria. Additional information can be found at the Community Corner presented by Cargill outside Portal 6, or by visiting clevelandmonsters.com/jersey.

In addition to the jersey auction proceeds, the Monsters Community Foundation is proud to be providing a matching donation amount to Prayers From Maria to help them with their incredible mission.
