Quad City Miracle Field

QUAD CITY MIRACLE FIELD AT PRAIRIE HEIGHTS PARK

Too often, children with physical disabilities sit on the sideline, watching their siblings and friends play...

Quad City Miracle Field will provide inclusive play, ensuring that children of all abilities have the chance to play together in a healthy and fun environment where they can make new friends while building self-esteem in the process

- Provide a home field for Challenger Baseball League, a co-education baseball league that has been providing individuals with disabilities an opportunity to play baseball since 1989
- Conveniently located off I-74 and 53rd Street as the fourth field in the complex along with three "traditional fields" to integrate athletes of all abilities
- Special latex-free rubberized surface and fully accessible dugouts accommodate wheelchairs and persons with mobility and sensory impairments

- Painted Elements: The bases, home plate and pitching mounds remove any raised area
- 15,000 square feet, enough space for children in wheelchairs and walkers to play alongside their friends and families
- Flexible enough for soccer, volleyball, badminton, beep ball and tee ball

As Mayors of the Quad Cities we are united in our support for the Quad City Miracle Field.

We believe that the Miracle Field is a greatly needed enhancement to our community. The Quad Cities, like many regional areas, has a larger number of children with disabilities who would benefit greatly from this unique regional facility. Providing all children an outlet to participate in activities such as baseball, softball, soccer, and lacrosse will be a wonderful affirming statement for our communities to embrace the importance of inclusion of all children. There are already a good number of athletes that participate in activities such as Challenger League Baseball but sadly there are also a greater number of unidentified athletes that are unable to participate because of the barriers that are found on traditional baseball fields and athletic venues. The Miracle Field will help break down the barriers to allow more participants to be engaged in sports and leisure activities.

The Miracle Field symbolizes there's a place for you in the Quad Cities, but it's so much more than that; it's for the families, it's for the community, it's for the volunteers, it's a source of pride – we win all the way around.
