CHORUS: G            D            C            G
 This is a song for all the good people,
 C                    G                    Am7                    D7
 All the good people who've touched up my life.
 G            D            C            G
 This is a song for all the good people,
 C            G            D7            G
 People I'm thanking my stars for to-night!

1. G            D            C            G
 This is a song for all my com-panions
 C                    G                    Am7                    D7
 Who knew what I needed was something they had;
 G            D            C            G
 Food on the table, a heart that was able,
 C            G            D7            G
 Able to keep me just this side of sad. (CHORUS)

2. G            D            C            G
 This is a song for all the good travelers
 C                    G                    Am7                    D7
 Who passed through my life as they moved a-long;
 G            D            C            G
 The ramblers, the thinkers, the just-one-more drinkers;
 C            G            D7            G
 They each took the time to sing me their song. (CHORUS)

3. G            D            C            G
 This is a song for all the good singers,
 C                    G                    Am7                    D7
 The songs, and the music, the jokes good and bad.
 G            D            C            G
 We sang in the kitchen, held no compe-tition,
 C            G            D7            G
 Each knowing the other was a good friend to have. (CHORUS)

TAG: G            D            C            G
 Some helped in small ways, some helped in hallways,
 C                    G                    D7                    G
 And some always told me, "You're doin' all right!" (CHORUS)
