SPOOKY & SPIRITED

We'll be rocking with the Cereal Killers on Friday, October 29th from 7PM - 11PM to start Halloween weekend off with some fun. We'll be pouring Pumpcan, Blood Orange PsychOPathy, and Bloodwood which is a beer aged in red wine barrels with raspberry, blackberry, orange, and lemon zest added to it as some drinks perfectly fitting the occasion.

Venture into the upside down at Streetside Brewery this Saturday, Oct. 30 for Demogorgon Day, a celebration of the brewery's beastly barrel aged imperial stout. Streetside is breaking out new variants of Demogorgon for the event, as well as some fan favorite selections from the cellar. New for 2021 are a single barrel version aged 18 months in a New Riff bourbon barrel, butter pecan and butter pecan pie variants aged in Boone County bourbon barrels, coconut coffee and double coconut coffee aged in coconut rum barrels, and two Snickers variants (standard and almond) aged in Blanton's bourbon barrels. Fans of prior Demogorgon releases can look forward to apple brandy, double maple, s'mores and tiramisu variants making a return in very limited quantities. WE'VE COME A LONG WAY FAST ...

And with great beer, great food, and great guests like you, the sky's the limit!

How can a full year have passed by already? Hard to believe, but our first anniversary is upon us, and we wanted to share some of the fun and festivities with you ... a sneak peek into what we've got planned for the weekend.

Thanks for helping us raise a glass and celebrate.

Let's start with 52.

A noteworthy number that covers not only the weeks over our first year of business, but also the variety of beers we've brewed since last fall's grand opening (!!). Halloween 2020, we opened our doors with 5 beers on tap – now, we've regularly got up to 20 varieties on draft at any given time.

No surprise, one year later, our 1-year anniversary celebration is going to be all about the beer.

It all kicks off Friday ...

This Friday, Oct 29, the grand festivities start at 4p – we're tapping two brand-new beers, brewed specifically for our anniversary: Honoring the Past (Cream Ale) and Brewing the Future (Fruited Double IPA). Why these two? Push play below to hear all about it, straight from the source ...

Then on Saturday ...

Oct 30th will see the return of our “original five” – with a twist. Timed tapplings will occur throughout the day, starring each of Cartridge’s 5 grand opening beers along with a limited-release, small-batch anniversary variant of each. Watch our social feed for exact times!

Saturday morning, we’ll also release a VERY special mixed four-pack that includes 2 cans of Honoring the Past Cream Ale and 2 cans of Brewing the Future Fruited DIPA, along with (spoiler alert) a limited-edition commemorative anniversary celebration poster – available both Saturday and Sunday to the first 50 to buy the anniversary 4-pack.

There’s even brand-new beer-inspired merch ...

Available NOW, only in the brewpub – think that signature Cartucho sugar skull and Up the Hill stripe set, both now emblazoned on a tee.

It’s been a wild ride, to say the least. And we can’t wait to show you what we’ve got in store for year two. Here’s to us, but more important – here’s to you!

Be sure to also follow, like, and share with your friends on Facebook, Instagram, and Twitter for ongoing updates, brewery features and more!
