

Rhinegeist Brewery to Host Second INKED Tattoo and Brew Event with Live Tattooing

Artists from White Whale, Black Fern and Lonesome Town Tattoo will be tattooing flash art, live, at the brewery. MAGGY MCDONEL OCT 29, 2021

Rhinegeist is hosting its second INKED event at its Over-the-Rhine brewery on Nov. 20 to celebrate the seasonal release of its Ink stout.

INKED will feature artists from favorite local tattoo shops White Whale, Black Fern and Lonesome Town Tattoo, who will be giving pre-selected flash art tattoos — live. If you're on the fence, maybe a pint of Rhinegeist's seasonal imperial stout, Ink, will set you over the edge to get some real ink.

Rhinegeist Ink was first released in 2014 to great success. "Blacker than night, Ink stains the soul. An indelible chasm of roasted malt, plunging through note of coffee, dark fruit, and milk chocolate. Gaze long into the darkness and the darkness will gaze back into you," writes Rhinegeist of the beer on its website.

The first INKED event was held in 2019, but it could not be held in 2020 (for the obvious pandemic reasons). But after a year and lots of vaccinations, Rhinegeist says they're ready to welcome patrons to "drink Ink, (and) get inked" again. The beer will be available both on draft and in bottles and the brewery says those who get there early will get an INKED tote. Tattoos are available on a first-come, first-served basis. Artists will have special designs to select from.

Admission is free. Draft and bottled Ink variants will be available for purchase at the event, as will tattoos.

Noon-8 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 20. Rhinegeist, 1910 Elm St., Over-the-Rhine, rhinegeist.com.

It's time once again to lace up those blades of glory and hit the ice at Fifty West Brewing. In reaction to social distancing needs caused by the pandemic, Fifty West shifted all their hospitality efforts to the expansive campus around their Cincinnati production brewery, taking advantage of the ample space to make the experience about more than just beer. That included the installation of a skating rink on the brewery grounds, a popular feature which Fifty West brought back this week as Ohio winter rolls in. To go along with the re-opening of the ice, the brewery has also released X-Mas Cookie, a winter warmer ale brewed with caramel malts to produce an alluring amber hue and pleasant sweetness, contrasted by the addition of cinnamon, nutmeg and ginger. Braxton Hosts Seventh-Annual Celebration of Bourbon-Barrel-Aged Stouts – Dark Charge Day

The winter block party is ‘hopping’ on Dec. 4th. CITYBEAT STAFF NOV 10, 2021

Braxton Brewing Co.'s seventh-annual celebration of bourbon-barrel-aged stout is back.

Dark Charge Day is ‘hopping’ on Dec. 4. According to a release from the brewery, there will be four variants introduced this year: a barrel-aged Chocolate Hazelnut Coffee brew from Braxton Builder, Coconut Cream Puff and Barrel House Orange Curacao developed by Braxton Labs, and the Barrel-Aged Dark Charge. Organizers say they have planned extra surprises to make up for last year’s virtual Dark Charge Day.

“I couldn’t be more excited for the return of our signature event Dark Charge Day in December,” said Braxton Brewing CEO Jake Rouse in a release. “To celebrate, our team has been hard at work pushing the boundaries on Dark Charge variants that are sure to delight.”

The Barrel-Aged Dark Charge features a blend of 2019, 2020 and 2021 vintages, creating “deep aromas of stone fruits such as plums that pair nicely with the notes of coffee and roast.”

Braxton Builder’s brew, the bourbon-barrel-aged Chocolate Hazelnut Coffee, was aged in Buffalo Trace barrels. Brewers say each sip will feature a “smooth, silky mouth-feel with cacao nibs, hazelnut coffee, and hazelnut extract to bring a chocolatey beer twist to your favorite flavored morning coffee.”

Coconut Cream Puff, developed by Braxton Labs, has a base of 12-month-aged Dark Charge with milk and sugar added for a nice creamy taste. “Time conditioning on fresh raw coconut, vanilla beans and cinnamon lends bursting flavors of fresh-baked pastries and a sweet, tropical finish,” says Braxton.

Double Barrel Aged Orange Curacao from the Barrel House was aged in bourbon barrels for 12 months and to give it its signature flavor. The brew was transferred to Orange Tiger Liqueur barrels from Toledo Spirits Company for its last 60 days before bottling.

The celebration will take place at Braxton’s Covington taproom Saturday, Dec. 4. Dark Charge variants go up for pre-sale at noon on Nov. 16.

VIP tickets are available for $80, and include two specialty drink tickets, five non-specialty drink tickets, a limited-edition Dark Charge print, food from Parlor on Seventh, VIP bottle sales and a private VIP area with restrooms.

You can also rent out one of Braxton’s outdoor igloos for $400. Guests will receive all the VIP perks as well as: a private igloo for up to eight people, pre-ordered Dark Charge bottles waiting for them upon arrival, a charcuterie board and one Vintage Dark Charge Bottle per party of four.

Braxton is located at 27 W. Seventh St., Covington. Find more information at darkchargeday.com.
