BREWING COMPANY

On Christmas Eve, Tikkun Farm's main house, living space, and headquarters suffered a total loss. Everyone made it out to safety and is staying in another small building on-site. However, there are many needs to keep the non-profit aspect of the farm still running while they work to repair and rebuild. This is a key non-profit to the local and regional communities that so many families rely on for food and programming. The most pressing need is a place on-site for volunteers and staff to work. These funds will go toward meeting the most immediate need for that, whether a tiny house, RV, or something similar. Any other funds will stay with the non-profit for any additional immediate needs or to use for their operations and programming in service of others. Alternatively, if you know of any mobile unit/s that can be donated, please reach out through the organization's Facebook page.

Tikkun Farm is a 3.5-acre non-profit farm our neighborhood of Mt. Healthy in Cincinnati. They offer a lot of programming at the farm, which includes the following:

- An on-site free pantry that serves 33,000 people annually and distributes over 30,000 pounds of food each month.
- A crockpot meal program that serves approximately 1100 meals each month.
  - Job-training programs for youth.
  - Healing arts programs.
- A place for refugees to grow their own food.
- And more: <https://www.tikkunfarm.com/community-support/> Please help to keep Tikkun Farm operational as its service and reach ripples out further than we even know.

After a long wait, the moment has finally arrived! We are overjoyed to announce the highly anticipated grand reopening of our beloved Brewpub. The Brewpub has been temporarily closed since 2020 due to the COVID-19 pandemic. While we've been busy serving up delicious burgers, shakes, and dogs at our Burger bar across the street, we know that many of our fans have been missing the cozy and intimate atmosphere of the Brewpub.

Now, under the direction of Cincinnati chef Jackson Rouse, the Brewpub is ready to welcome back customers with open arms. The menu will be inspired by the great American road trip, featuring local and regional ingredients that transport you to different parts of the country with every bite. The 24-tap bar will be stocked with our signature beer, hard lemonade, vodka seltzers, and a carefully curated wine and cocktail list.

The Brewpub will be open for dinner Wednesday through Sunday, with brunch available on the weekends. Starting on January 4th, 2023, at 4pm. We reopen our doors for the first time, with our grand reopening celebration on January 7th, which also marks our ten-year anniversary. Experience the Brewpub in all its glory once again!

BREWING

We mentioned beer and bottles. Those drop TODAY.

Our final specialty bottle in our MOTTO series gets released today (and tapped!) at 4p ... and this one's got a holiday kick. Big, bold, and boozy, a barleywine-style beer where dark fruit, burnt sugar and holiday spice march in step with its malt-forward, oaky-rich flavor. You're gonna want this one (perfect for ringing in the New Year).

MOTTO: DEEDS NOT WORDS

Bourbon Barrel-aged Barleywine (12.1%, 35 IBU) ***

This last bottle of 2022 salutes our founder, Kyle Hackbarth, and the heroes of the 1st Battalion, 22 Infantry Regiment. For more than 150 years, this storied unit has been dedicated to continuing the heritage and traditions of one of the Army's finest – the epitome of go-getters, doers, change-makers ... the ones who live by their motto, "Deeds, Not Words."
