

Barleycorn's Brewhouse.

Join us at Barleycorn's Brewhouse on December 27th from 5-7pm for a tapping event featuring "Wildfire," our new Irish red ale, freshly tapped at 5:30 pm.

The first 100 guests to order will score a collectible pint glass, and there's more – we're hosting a chance auction! Plus, every sale contributes to supporting the Wilder Fire Department, who will be celebrity bartending. Our brewery is nestled in Wilder, Kentucky, right in the historic firehouse, which inspired the name "Wildfire." Don't miss out, because "Wildfire" is only available for a limited time. Come raise a glass and join us in giving back to our community!

Saturday, December 23rd, Noon-11pm - Annual Winter Solstice Celebration

Come Celebrate the shortest night of the year with us, and the subsequent return of the Light! We will have fun activities all day, tarot readings in the evening, and delicious beverages to share with you. Use our space to host family and friends for a beautiful day of celebration!

We have news about our Barleywine release. We've been brewing a Barleywine since 2018 and we're releasing it on Jan 1st like we always do. We firmly believe that a "straight up" Barleywine (no adjuncts and no barrel aging) is the best representation of the style. We think it's a super unique style in that it's delicious when fresh and even more so with a few years of age on it (and delicious and interesting to taste at all points in between).

On Jan 1st, we'll be releasing our 2024 vintage along with some 2021 (both package and draft). We will open at 11am. We're canning the 2024 vintage on (Tuesday December 19th).

Here is more background about our Barleywine:

Brewed once a year in December for a release on January 1st, our Barleywine-style ale is a beer to drink fresh or age. Intense with a subtle date-like fruitiness that goes perfectly with a big, layered malty body. Classic American hops add firm bitterness and a bit of dryness to the finish to help balance the malt.

On January 1st (opening at 11am), we're releasing cans of our 2024 Barleywine as well as re-releasing cans of our 2021 Barleywine so that people can taste a fresh and aged Barleywine side by side. We will also have both on tap for those that want to taste in the taproom. Note that the recipe for our Barleywine doesn't change from year to year. So when tasting the 2024 vs the 2021, the difference is solely due to the beer aging for 3 years. We think Barleywine is an extremely interesting and complex beer due to how the flavor changes over time.

Other happenings in the taproom on New Years Day include:

- Our annual New Year's Day run at 11am
- El Rey Food Truck serving up delicious Mexican fare
- College football on all day
