We have two new Collaborations with RaR Brewing and Bolero snort Brewery

Tomatoa New England IPA 6.7%

We had a Cincinnati native and brewer at RaR Brewing in Maryland come out to join on this collab!

Tomatoa (named from the antagonist crab in Moana) is the result of - a 6.7% IPA that received a whirlpool charge of El Dorado hops, followed by a heavy dry hopping with Citra Cryo and HBC 586. This blend of hops brings out a ton of ripe mango and sweet guava carried by the full mouthfeel the was enhanced with a touch of lactose in the boil.

Labyrinth with Hazelnuts or Pecan and Coconuts

Imperial Brown Ale 11.3%

A long time friend, Jared Lewinski, came to town with Bolero snort crew and helped us brew up a big time Imperial Brown Ale! A complex malt bill featuring honey malt, flaked rye, and caramel malts. Labyrinth is a delightful dark ale boasting rich caramel and toffee, some light bready rye spice, and a hint of milk chocolate. Most of this was laid to rest in whiskey barrels, but we saved two non-barrel aged variants.

Hazelnut was roasted with 10lbs of blanched hazelnut per barrel!
The second Variant also has 10lbs of Pecans and Coconuts per barrel!

The Union location isn't expected to open until late Spring 2024.

MadTree Parks & Rec set to open in Blue Ash

MadTree Parks & Rec is set to be the third location for MadTree Brewing Company, joining their original location in Oakley as well as MadTree Alcove in Over-the-Rhine.

MadTree Parks & Rec will be located at Blue Ash's Summit Park, as they plan to convert an existing 15,000 square foot airplane hangar into a taproom with an outdoor and recreational vibe.

Per the press release:

The concept ties into the park's green spaces with the creation of a massive outdoor area featuring unique elements catering to all ages. Plans are still in development, but visitors will find things like cornhole, extensive outdoor seating, and walking trails. The expansive taproom features indoor/outdoor areas, private rental space and of course, continues MadTree's tradition of providing some of the best beer, cocktails, and food offerings in Cincinnati.

The building is also expected to be LEED certified and will continue MadTree's partnership with the local parks system, as they have focused on increasing the local tree population for years.

DVD Brew

1555 Loveland Madeira Rd, Loveland – coming soon

It seems like you can turn anything into a brewery these days, and Dana Depenbrock is taking that to heart when he turns a former carwash in Loveland into a brewery.

DVD Brew is the dream of Depenbrock, who has been homebrewing for 20-plus years. He's won local and national competitions, and his bock beer was named grand champion at the 2019 Bockfest.

The taproom will definitely be a unique operation. The idea is to turn the former automatic carwash building into a 5-barrel brewhouse, while the former self-service bays will be transformed into the taproom. There will also be ample outdoor seating with a full patio.
